Coro Energy Plc

("Coro" or the "Company")

Appointment of Independent Non-Executive Director

Coro Energy Plc, the South East Asian energy company with a natural gas and clean energy portfolio, is pleased to announce that Harry Beamish has been appointed as Independent Non-Executive Director of the Company with immediate effect.

Harry has significant expertise in the energy and renewables sectors with over a decade specialising in emerging markets. Harry has developed, advised and structured multiple renewable energy transactions across Hydro, Solar, Wind, and Energy Efficiency and advises companies within the Energy Transition space.

Harry is the co-founder and Partner of Becquerel Capital, the development and structuring boutique focused on sustainable power infrastructure, with significant experience in Emerging Markets.

Previously, Harry worked at Temporis Capital LLP, the impact investment manager specialising in renewable energy and clean technology. Prior to Temporis Capital, Harry worked within the origination team at CarbonDesk Limited, the Independent Emission Brokerage, between 2009 and 2011.

Harry holds a master's degree in International Business and Finance from ESCP-EAP European School of Management.

Tom Richardson commented: "I am delighted to welcome Harry to the Board. With Harry onboard, we will be able to conclude the Company's Annual Report and Accounts for the year ended 31 December 2023 and at the point of announcing our FY 2023 results, seek to have the suspension from trading lifted."

Further disclosures required under the AIM Rules

In addition to his appointment to the Coro Energy Board, Harry David De Courcy Beamish, aged 40, holds or has held the following directorships or partnerships in the past five years. Harry currently holds no shares in the Company.
